- You could not be claimed as a dependent on another taxpayer's federal income tax return
- Your residence was not completely exempted from real property taxes
- The current market value of all real property you owned, such as houses, garages, and land, was $85,000 or less and
- You meet all the conditions listed under either Homeowners or Renters below.

Homeowners:

- You or your spouse paid real property taxes.
- Any rent you received for nonresidential use of your residence was 20% or less of the total rent you received.

Renters:

- You or a member of your household paid rent for your residence.
- The average monthly rent you and other members of your household paid was $450 or less, not counting charges for heat, gas, electricity, furnishings, or board.

How much is the credit?

- If all members of your household are under 65, the credit can be as much as $75.
- If at least one member of your household is 65 or older, the credit can be as much as $375.
- If your credit is more than the taxes you owe, you can claim a refund.

For additional information, see instructions.

How to claim the credit

- If you file a New York State personal income tax return, you must complete Form IT-214 and attach it to your return.
- If you do not have to file a New York State income tax return, you may still claim this credit by mailing Form IT-214, Claim for Real Property Tax Credit.

How do I claim the credit for past years?

You can receive a refund for past years if you claim the credit by the dates below. Complete and file paper Form IT-214 (for the year or years that you were eligible) as soon as you can, but before these dates.

Year	Last date to file
